Due Diligence

We have the capability to work independently, with the client's staff or with outside accountants, actuaries or underwriting partners to examine entire books of business. The exercise may be to evaluate case and IBNR reserving, considerations for purchase or sale of a company or to validate internal reserving protocols. Advise on contemplated tactical marketing plans including line of business, required core competency, production channel, and territorial decisions. Undertake operational due diligence and analysis of potential or existing acquisitions, business partners and programs.
